

Equity Corps of Oregon (ECO) Program

- The purpose of today's appointment is to try to enroll you in the Equity Corps of Oregon (ECO) program, which provides free legal aid to people who are in removal proceedings at the Portland Immigration Court and who do not have the resources to hire a private attorney.
- ECO is a collective effort between several organizations, each playing their own role. Organizations such as Pueblo Unido, IRCO, El Programa Hispano, and Latino Network are "navigating" organizations that can help you enroll in the ECO program. Innovation Law Lab is the Clearinghouse or Administrator of the ECO program. Attorneys stationed at organizations such as Immigration Counseling Services, Lutheran Community Services, SOAR, IRCO, Catholic Charities and Metropolitan Public Defender provide the actual legal services.
- I am a navigator with the organization Pueblo Unido PDX. I am not a lawyer and I cannot give you legal advice. The purpose of this appointment is to gather information relevant to your immigration case and fill out this application or "navigation form", which I will then send to the attorneys of the ECO program to see if you are eligible for the free legal services.
- There are 3 steps to enroll in the ECO program:
 - Step 1: Attend an appointment with an ECO navigator to discuss your immigration case and make digital scans of your documents. The navigator will then write up a summary of your case and send it with the digital scans to Innovation Law Lab, the law firm that manages the ECO program.
 - Step 2: Innovation Law Lab will review the summary of the case and determine whether you are eligible for the ECO program. Innovation Law Lab will convey their decision to your navigator within 2 weeks. When Innovation Law Lab conveys their decision to the navigator, the navigator will then contact you to inform you whether you qualify for ECO.
 - Step 3: If you are determined eligible for ECO, it means that Innovation Law Lab will place your case with one of the 6 organizations that provide legal services, such as Immigration Counseling Service, Lutheran Community Services, Catholic Charities, IRCO, SOAR, or Metropolitan Public Defender. All of us are collaborating under the title of ECO to carry out this program, each performing their own role.
 - If Innovation Law Lab determines that you are not eligible for the program, your navigator will let you know as soon as they receive the decision, and may be able to refer you to other low-cost legal resources or to private attorneys.
- If you do qualify for the ECO program, there are two stages of your case in which you'll be eligible to receive different legal services:
 - 1. Master Calendar/Preliminary Hearing Phase: While you have the preliminary court hearings (or "Master Hearings"), you will have access to free legal help to meet the important requirements of your case.
 - For example, you can get free legal help to fill out your asylum application - each person has to turn in their asylum form to court within their first year in the US.
 - 5 months after submitting your asylum form, you will have the right to request a work permit. Through the ECO program, you can also get free legal help to apply for a work permit.
 - If you change your address or phone number, through the ECO program you can also get help updating your information with the court, with ICE, with ISAP, and with USCIS.
 - Finally, while you have the preliminary court hearings, you can get free legal advice at your appointments with ECO attorneys. So, if you have questions or concerns about what you should say in court, how you should answer the judge's questions, or other questions relevant to the immigration case, be sure to ask them when you meet with the ECO attorneys.
 - It is important to note that while you have the preliminary court hearings you will be representing yourself. That is, the lawyers of the ECO program are not going to attend the preliminary hearings with you. You will go to the hearings without a lawyer, but you will have access to free legal aid before and after the hearings.

- 2. Individual Calendar/Merits/Final Hearing Phase: After attending several preliminary hearings, the judge will schedule the date of your final hearing, also known as the Individual calendar hearing or the Merits hearing.
 - If you qualify for the ECO program, you may receive a free lawyer who represents you at the final hearing. If you receive a free lawyer to represent you at the final hearing, you will begin working together with this lawyer 6 months before your final hearing, to prepare your arguments, gather evidence, and practice your testimony.
 - It is also important to note that the ECO program is funded by the state of Oregon. We currently have the funds guaranteed through June 30, 2021. So if you qualify for the ECO program and have your final hearing scheduled before June 30, 2021, you may be able to receive a free lawyer who represents you at the final hearing. If your final hearing is scheduled after June 30, 2021, we cannot guarantee that you will receive a free lawyer at the final hearing – that will depend on whether we can get new funds from the state in the next year.
- All of the information that you provide to us today will be confidential and protected. We'll only share this information – with your permission – with the attorneys participating in the ECO program, for the purpose of providing you with case support.
- It is possible that Innovation Law Lab will combine your information and data with the information of other ECO participants in order to evaluate program performance, advocate for continued funding for the program, and other related purposes. Innovation Law Lab will protect the confidentiality of your information, for example, by making the information anonymous.
- In this context, we ask that you tell the truth in every conversation you have with a Navigator, Innovation Law Lab staff, and with others involved in helping you obtain legal aid.
- We also ask that you promptly communicate any updates about your immigration case, address, or contact phone number to your Navigator or to Law Lab as soon as possible.
- It's important that you are aware that you remain the person solely responsible for complying with all the requirements of your immigration case, including, but not limited to, attending any and all court hearings.
- Finally, we want to be clear that today we are not able to provide you any legal advice or guarantee that you'll be accepted into the ECO program. As soon as Innovation Law Lab determines whether you qualify for the program and shares that information with me, I'll contact you to let you know.

Do you have any questions before we begin the interview?
